

PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN IN POLITICAL LIFE

An assessment of developments in national parliaments, political parties, governments and the Inter-Parliamentary Union, five years after the Fourth World Conference on Women

Based on IPU's world survey and analysed in August 1999 by Ms. Genevieve Pascaud-Becane, former official of the French Senate, and the IPU Secretariat

CONTENTS

	Page
OVERVIEW OF THE GOALS AND FINDINGS OF THE SURVEY	3
The Inter-Parliamentary Union and the Beijing process.....	3
The need for a preliminary assessment.....	3
Informative survey findings despite tight deadlines.....	4
Parliaments and political parties are generally well-informed and more aware.....	4
More committed governments.....	5
A significant change within the Inter-Parliamentary Union.....	5
First steps towards implementation and a general sense of progress.....	5
Grounds for hope.....	6
SCOPE AND LIMITATIONS OF THE SURVEY	7
A twofold aim.....	7
Significant results.....	7
Genuine representativeness.....	10
PARLIAMENTS AND THE FOLLOW-UP TO BEIJING	11
• Parliaments are relatively well briefed on the Beijing Platform for Action and the Union's Plan of Action	11
Familiarity with the Beijing Platform for Action.....	11
National plans and parliamentary involvement.....	13
Familiarity with the Union's 1994 Plan of Action.....	14
Lessons to be learned from the data.....	15
• An overall sense of progress	15
• Implementation of legal commitments	18
Well-nigh general recognition of the principle of equality.....	18
The establishment of monitoring mechanisms.....	22
The adoption of legislation based on the content of the Plan of Action and the Platform for Action.....	22
Revision of terminology.....	23
• Few amendments to legislation aimed at promoting participation in political activity	23
Electoral legislation virtually unchanged.....	24
Sustained action aimed at political socialisation of women.....	25
• Increasing the proportion of women in parliaments: Little change	26
Women still poorly represented in parliamentary governing bodies.....	27
Some specialised parliamentary committees.....	28
Increasing parliamentary awareness of women's issues.....	28
The relationship between awareness and the proportion of women in parliament.....	29

HAS THERE BEEN A "BEIJING EFFECT" IN POLITICAL PARTIES?	31
• Considerable familiarity with the international action plans	33
• What steps have been taken in the meantime?	34
• A manifest will to reform but little action	34
A positive attitude to greater participation by women.....	34
The electoral system issue.....	37
Quotas.....	40
• The persistence of psychological and material obstacles	43
Prejudices and stereotypes.....	43
Difficulties encountered in everyday life.....	43
Lack of time and family responsibilities.....	44
Lack of motivation and the bad image of politics.....	44
Lack of resources.....	45
Lack of self-confidence.....	45
Obstacles within parties.....	45
Lack of solidarity among women.....	46
• Factors conducive to change	46
Prior local experience an asset for prospective women candidates.....	46
Assistance required for training and campaign funding.....	46
Can feminist parties serve as a spur to action?.....	47
The origins and development of inter-party networks of women MPs.....	47
The key role of the media.....	48
THE FALTERING PACE OF GOVERNMENT CHANGE SINCE 1995.....	49
WITHIN THE INTER-PARLIAMENTARY UNION:
EMBRYONIC CHANGE.....	54
THE IDEA OF PARITY GAINS GROUND.....	56

ANNEXES

- Annex 1 Plan of action To Correct Present Imbalances in the Participation of Men and Women in Political Life, March 1994
- Annex 2 Beijing parliamentary declaration: Inter-Parliamentary Union, September 1995
- Annex 3 Questionnaire sent in October 1998 to national parliaments
- Annex 4 Questionnaire sent in October 1998 to political parties represented in national parliaments