

Strategic International Human Resource Management

Choices and Consequences in Multinational People Management

Second edition

mmm m HOCHSCHULE
& LIECHTENSTEIN
Bibliothek

Stephen J Perkins & Susan M Shortland

KOGAN PAGE

London and Philadelphia

Contents

Figures and tables	viii
Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xiii
Part One Theorizing strategic international human resource management	1
Introduction: SIHRM choices and consequences	3
Introduction 4; Defining choice and consequence(s) in SIHRM 6; Choices in the context of competing international managerial streams 9; Conceptualizing strategic choice making and its consequences 12; Material influences on SIHRM choices 16; Summary reflections 17; Outline of subsequent chapters 18
1 Globalization and international HRM orientations: choices and consequences	25
Theorizing globalization and its corporate consequences 29; Governance and SIHRM implications 32; Inexorable or 'bargained' globalization? 35; Globalization and 'The Jones Corporation' 36; Devil in the detail? 40; Concluding remarks 41

1

Part Two Applying strategic international human resource management in practice 49

2 Culture, welfare and international mobility: choices and consequences 51

The influence of culture 53; Culture shock 64; Managing international assignment stress 66; Repatriation and reverse culture shock 72; International mobility and implications for the psychological contract 74; Concluding remarks 75

3 Choices and consequences in resourcing global business operations 79

Introduction 80; The increasing pace of organizational resource internationalization 81; The process of organization and employee resource internationalization 81; Managing strategic international investments 83; International leadership resourcing: the international cadre 87; International executive recruitment 90; Identifying international executive capabilities 92; Specifying international competencies 92; Psychological research on international adaptation 95; The selection process for internationally mobile employment 96; Women and international assignments 99; Repatriation of internationally assigned employees 100; Expatriate employee localization 102; Concluding remarks 103

4 Training and development in the global environment: choices and consequences 107

Introduction 108; International training 108; International development 122; Strategic HRD: local training and development interventions 131; Concluding remarks 133

5 Choices and consequences in international employee compensation 137

Introduction 138; Definitions: substance and process in reward management 140; Culture and beyond: national, industry and corporate contexts 143; Thinking through choices and consequences in international reward systems 145; Defining 'multinational' employees for reward management purposes 147; Strategic choices: organizational formations and leadership profiles - imperial governors, expatriate ghetto residents, global champions? 147; Reward strategies for internationally mobile executives 155; Intra-region mobility and diversity: 'third-country national' rewards 165; Managing the effort-reward bargain for non-headquarters-sourced employees 166; Evaluating normative commentary: theory and practice 170; Observable transnational practices 173;

Designing rewards for the internationalizing business unit 176;
 Concluding remarks 178; Technical appendix Part 1: Guiding principles for expatriation: the 10-stage journey 182; Technical appendix Part 2: International assignee remuneration approaches 185; Technical appendix Part 3: International contracts and the global employment company 196

Choices and consequences in international employment relations 201

Introduction 202; Regulating employment relations 203;
 Managerial strategies: global rules - multi-local processes? 206; Extra-managerial roles in regulating employment relations systems 211; The dependent state and diversity in employment relations consequences 216; Regulatory norms under pressure? 219; Giving voice to human resources and resourceful humans? 222; Experimentation:
 the (new) norm in employment relations practice? 224; Concluding remarks 227

Choices and consequences: SIHRM trends and priorities? 235

Global consensus on top HR issues 235; Change management 238;
 Leadership development 240; Measuring HR effectiveness 243;
 Concluding remarks 244

Index 249