

Giving nature a chance: the Bern Convention

European Committee for the Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources

Environment and Natural Resources Division

Strasbourg 1984

Contents

- Brief details of the Convention. . . . . 5
- Preface: Professor Konrad Lorenz . . . . . 6
- Introduction. . . . . 8

- The reasons for a European Convention on nature conservation..... 9
  - The many dangers threatening European flora and fauna . . . . . 10
  - Why should nature be protected?. . . . . 12
- Objectives of the Bern Convention. . . . . 14
- Content of the Convention. . . . . 15
- Main provisions of the Convention. . . . . 16
- Signature and ratification. . . . . 17

- Examples of species strictly protected under the Convention . . . . . 18
  - The brown bear (Ursus arctos). . . . . 19
  - The otter (Lutra lutra). . . . . 20
  - The monk seal (Monachus monachus) . . . . . 21
  - All bats are protected under the Bern Convention. . . . . 22
  - Migratory birds know no frontiers. . . . . 24
  - Let birds of prey live. . . . . 25
  - The great bustard (Otis tarda). . . . . 27
  - The little-ringed plover (Charadrius dubius) . . . . . 29
  - The yellow-bellied toad (Bombina variegata) . . . . . 30
  - The smooth snake (Coronella austriaca) . . . . . 31
  - An orchid: (Ophrys kotschyi). . . . . 32

- Postface: His Excellency A. Wacker. . . . . 33
- Other relevant Council of Europe publications. . . . . 35
- The Council of Europe — the Europe of the 21. . . . . 36