

Andreas Warntjen / Arndt Wonka (eds.)

Governance in Europe

The Role of Interest Groups

Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft
Baden-Baden

Contents

Preface	7
Part I: Theoretical Perspectives
Arndt Wonka and Andreas Wamjtjen
The Making of Public Policies in the European Union: Linking Theories of Formal Decision-making and Informal Interest Intermediation	9
Volker Schneider
State Theory, Governance and the Logic of Regulation and Administrative Control	25
Madeleine O. Hosli, Andreas Nölke and Jan Beyers
Contending Political-Economy Perspectives on European Interest Group Activity	42
B. Guy Peters
Interest Groups and European Governance: A Normative Perspective	57
Part II: Empirical Results
Amanda Sloat
Governance in the Making: The Future of the EU's (Thought) Experiment	66
Irina Michalowitz
Lobbying as a Two-way Strategy: Interest Intermediation or Mutual Instrumentalisation?	76
Christian H.CA. Henning
Modelling the Political Influence of Interest Groups: Theory and Empirical Evidence from European Agricultural Policy	94
Christine Arnold and Paul Pennings
Recent Developments in EU-level Social Policy-Making and Corporatist Governance	113
Gerald Schneider and Konstantin Baltz
Specialization pays off: Interest Group Influence on EU Pre-negotiations in four Member States	130
Jan-Erik Lane and Svante Ersson
The Impact of Trade Unions on Social Policy in EU Member States	148
List of Contributors	163