

Eric Dieth

Integration by Cooperation

A Constructivist Social Theory
and a Theory of the State and the Law

SpringerWienNewYork

Contents

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| A. Introduction                                      | 1  |
| B. Social construction of "reality"                  | i  |
| 1. Different worlds   | 9         |
| a) Reciprocity and/or selfish individuality?                | 9         |
| b) Social construction of poverty                           | 13        |
| 2. Value-based "reality"                                    | 17        |
| a) Fighting with reality                                    | 17        |
| b) Consensus-based constructivism                           | 20        |
| c) Decision instead of cognition                            | 24        |
| C. Concept of humankind and community                | 27 |
| 1. Neo homo oeconomicus – selfish individualism             | 28        |
| a) Selfish monads imprisoned                                | 29        |
| b) Market-integration as divine harmony                     | 31        |
| c) Religious hope or cynical disinterest instead of justice | 38        |
| d) Core value – freedom to consume                          | 40        |
| 2. Homo interactivus – interdependent individuals           | 41        |
| a) "I" as me and the other                                  | 42        |
| b) Constitutive recognition by and of others                | 45        |
| c) Others   | 46        |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| d) Community – society                                     | 48         |
| f) The visible and responsible hands                       | 52         |
| D. Integration process                              | 55  |
| 1. Consensus  | 57  |
| a) Constitutive consensus and value consensus              | 57         |
| b) Routine consensus                                       | 58         |
| c) Institutional consensus                                 | 60         |
| d) Legitimation consensus                                  | 61         |
| 2. Construction phases and integration modes        | 64  |
| a) New construction phase                                  | 64         |
| b) Reproduction  | 65         |
| c) Deconstruction  | 66         |
| d) Deviant behavior – dissent                              | 71         |
| 3. Integration quality                              | 76  |
| a) Direct violence, structural violence, cultural violence | 77         |
| b) Authoritarian, competitive, or cooperative integration  | 80         |
| c) Integration work  | 87         |
| d) Winner/loser arrangement                                | 89         |
| 4. Fragile stability                                | 92  |
| a) Contingency – need for stability                        | 92         |
| b) Scapegoat politics                                      | 94         |
| c) Stable change   | 106        |
| 5. Collective identity                              | 107 |
| 6. Value-based constructivism                       | 111 |
| a) Pleading for values                                     | 111        |
| b) Social construction of values                           | 113        |

|           |   |            |
|-----------|---|------------|
| c)        | Value-based or procedural? Partisanship or neutrality?              | 115        |
| d)        | Happiness   | 119        |
| e)        | Everything is about values  | 121        |
| E. | Integration elements   | 124 |
| 1.        | Basic values  | 124        |
| a)        | Life as hope  | 126        |
| b)        | Freedom as work in progress   | 136        |
| c)        | Responsibility  | 150        |
| d)        | Justice   | 159        |
| e)        | Solidarity  | 172        |
| 2. | Recognition  | 180 |
| a)        | Economic absolutism – negated personhood                            | 180        |
| b)        | Constitutive and universal recognition,recognition of potential | 202        |
| c)        | Recognition denial – fight for recognition                          | 208        |
| 3.        | Respect   | 211        |
| a)        | Listen to others  | 211        |
| b)        | Homogeneity v. plurality  | 212        |
| c)        | Manichaeism and collectivism  | 221        |
| 4.        | Reciprocity   | 226        |
| a)        | Morality first  | 227        |
| b)        | Greed alone is not enough   | 239        |
| 5.        | Trust   | 245        |
| a)        | Functions of trust  | 245        |
| b)        | With trust to democracy   | 249        |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| 6. Decision-making process                                | 266 |
| a) Monopoly of violence by consensus                             | 266        |
| b) Interactive construction of the state – consented state power | 291        |
| c) Integration by law  | 301        |
| d) Law and identity  | 332        |
| 7. People – Space   | 343 |
| a) Racist market   | 345        |
| b) Imposed and chosen ghettos                                    | 371        |
| 8. Symbolic link – Time concept                           | 387 |
| a) Symbolic link   | 387        |
| b) Time concept – past, present, future                          | 407        |
| 9. Elementary consensus                                   | 421 |
| a) Approval of the core elements                                 | 421        |
| b) Integration is more than democracy or politics                | 426        |
| c) Greatness thanks to cooperation                               | 428        |
| d) Cooperation instead of confrontation                          | 431        |
| Acknowledgments  | 435        |
| References   | 437        |
| Index  | 487        |
| About the author   | 497        |