

ACA Papers on international Cooperation in Education

Friedhelm Mai worm, Bernd Wachter

ENGLISH-LANGUAGE-TAUGHT DEGREE PROGRAMMES IN EUROPEAN HIGHER EDUCATION

Trends and Success Factors

Lemmens

Contents

Preface	7
1 Executive Summary	9
2 Objectives and Methods	17
2.1 Background and Aims	17
2.2 Definitions	19
2.3 Methods	20
2.3.1 Institutional Survey	20
2.3.2 Programme Survey	21
2.3.3 Site Visits	21
2.3.4 Survey of Funding Organisations	22
2.3.5 Survey of Quality Assurance and Accreditation Agencies ..	22
3 The Quantitative Importance of English-Language-Taught Degree Programmes in Individual European Countries ..	23
3.1 Countries Participating in the Study	24
3.2 Institutions Providing English-Language-Taught Degree Programmes	25
3.3 Degree Programmes Provided in English	27
3.4 Enrolment in English-Language-Taught Degree Programmes ..	29
3.5 Leading Countries	31
4 The Institutional Context	33
4.1 Characteristics of Institutions	33
4.1.1 Year of Foundation and Legal Status	33
4.1.2 Type of Institutions	34
4.1.3 Student Population	35
4.1.4 Disciplinary Profile	38
4.2 International Activities of Institutions	39
4.2.1 Objectives of Internationalisation	40
4.2.2 Enrolment of Foreign Students	45
4.2.3 Participation in European/International Programmes and Mobility	47
5 Characteristics of English-Language-Taught Degree Programmes	53
5.1 Subject Areas	53
5.2 Degrees	57

5.3	Duration and Admission Requirements.	58
5.4	Year of Introduction.	62
5.5	Language of Instruction, Examination and Diploma.	63
5.6	Characteristics of the Curriculum.	66
5.7	Scholarships and Tuition Fees.	73
5.8	Eligibility and Regional Origin of Students.	75
6	Introduction and Operation of English-Language-Taught Degree Programmes.	79
6.1	Motivation.	79
6.2	Actors and Approaches.	84
6.3	Marketing.	88
6.4	Language Proficiency.	93
6.4.1	Students.	93
6.4.2	Teachers and Administrative Services.	99
6.5	Financial Support.	101
6.6	Accreditation and Quality Assurance.	104
6.7	Academic Level of Students.	110
6.8.	Workload and Services.	112
6.9	Spin-Offs and Outcomes.	116
7	Conclusions and Recommendations.	121
Annexes
Annex 1:	Institutions Visited and Persons Interviewed.	130
Annex 2:	Funding Agencies Surveyed.	135
Annex 3:	Accreditation and Quality Assurance Agencies Surveyed ..	136