

Entrepreneurship in the Global Economy

Engine for Economic Growth

HENRY KRESSEL

THOMAS V. LENTO

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

List of figures	page ix
List of tables	x
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	1
1 Government: Boss, financial partner, regulator – Entrepreneurs in mixed economies	11
2 Standing still is not an option: On promoting entrepreneurship and economic growth	35
3 Electronic innovation and the government: David Sarnoff creates the RCA empire	80
4 Global problem, golden opportunity: Ron Stanton profits from market disruption	116
5 Speeding voice and data traffic worldwide: Network microprocessors from RMI	131
6 A world leader emerges: SanDisk and flash memories	149
7 Implementing information technology across the globe	172

8	Three startups in China: Entrepreneurs in a controlled economy	189
9	Connecting the wireless networks of the world	210
10	Building an economy: Government planning vs. entrepreneurial innovation	227
	Select bibliography	257
	Index	261