INTRODUCTION

The Exposition of the Question of the Meaning of Being

Chapter One

The Necessity, Structure, and Priority of the Question of Being

1. The Necessity of an Explicit Repetition of the Question of Being 1
2. The Formal Structure of the Question of Being 4
3. The Ontological Priority of the Question of Being 8
4. The Ontic Priority of the Question of Being 10

Chapter Two

*The Double Task in Working Out the Question of Being:
The Method of the Investigation and Its Outline*

5. The Ontological Analysis of Dasein as Exposing the Horizon for an Interpretation of the Meaning of Being in General 15

6. The Task of a Destruction of the History of Ontology	19
7. The Phenomenological Method of the Investigation	26
A. The Concept of Phenomenon	27
B. The Concept of Logos	30
C. The Preliminary Concept of Phenomenology	32
8. The Outline of the Treatise	37

PART ONE

The Interpretation of Dasein in Terms of Temporality and the Explication of Time as the Transcendental Horizon of the Question of Being

DIVISION ONE

The Preparatory Fundamental Analysis of Dasein

Chapter One

The Exposition of the Task of a Preparatory Analysis of Dasein

9. The Theme of the Analytic of Dasein	41
10. How the Analytic of Dasein is to be Distinguished from Anthropology, Psychology, and Biology	44
11. The Existential Analytic and the Interpretation of Primitive Dasein: The Difficulties in Securing a "Natural Concept of World"	49

Chapter Two

Being-in-the-World in General as the Fundamental Constitution of Dasein

12. The Preliminary Sketch of Being-in-the-World in Terms of the Orientation toward Being-in as Such	53
13. The Exemplification of Being-in in a Founded Mode: Knowing the World	59

Chapter Three

The Worldliness of the World

14. The Idea of the Worldliness of the World in General	63
A. Analysis of Environmentality and Worldliness in General	66

15. The Being of Beings Encountered in the Surrounding World	66
16. The Worldly Character of the Surrounding World Announcing Itself in Innervforldly Beings	72
17. Reference and Signs	76
18. Relevance and Significance: The Worldliness of the World	81
B. The Contrast Between Our Analysis of Worldliness and Descartes' Interpretation of the World	87
19. The Determination of the "World" as Res Extensa	88
20. The Fundaments of the Ontological Definition of the "World"	90
21. The Hermeneutical Discussion of the Cartesian Ontology of the "World"	93
C. The Aroundness of the Surrounding World and the Spatiality of Dasein	99
22. The Spatiality of Innerworldly Things at Hand	99
23. The Spatiality of Being-in-the-World	102
24. The Spatiality of Dasein and Space	107

Chapter Four

Being-in-the-World as Being-with and Being a Self: The "They"

25. The Approach to the Existential Question of the Who of Dasein	112
26. The Dasein-with of Others and Everyday Being-with	114
27. Everyday Being a Self and the They	122

Chapter Five

Being-in as Such

28. The Task of a Thematic Analysis of Being-in	127
A. The Existential Constitution of the There	130
29. Da-sein as Attunement	130
30. Fear as a Mode of Attunement	136

31. Da-sein as Understanding	138
32. Understanding and Interpretation	144
33. Statement as a Derivative Mode of Interpretation	149
34. Da-sein and Discourse. Language	155
B. The Everyday Being of the There and the Falling Prey of Dasein
35. Idle Talk	161
36. Curiosity	164
37. Ambiguity	167
38. Falling Prey and Thrownness	169

Chapter Six

Care as the Being of Dasein

39. The Question of the Primordial Totality of the Structural Whole of Dasein	175
40. The Fundamental Attunement of Anxiety as an Eminent Disclosedness of Dasein	178
41. The Being of Dasein as Care	184
42. Confirmation of the Existential Interpretation of Dasein as Care in Terms of the Pre-ontological Self-interpretation of Dasein	189
43. Dasein, Worldliness, and Reality	193
a. Reality as a Problem of Being and the Demonstratability of the "External World"	194
b. Reality as an Ontological Problem	201
c. Reality and Care	203
44. Dasein, Disclosedness, and Truth	204
a. The Traditional Concept of Truth and Its Ontological Foundations	206
b. The Primordial Phenomenon of Truth and the Derivative Character of the Traditional Concept of Truth	210
c. The Kind of Being of Truth and the Presupposition of Truth	217

DIVISION TWO

Dasein and Temporality

45. The Result of the Preparatory Fundamental Analysis of Dasein and the Task of a Primordial, Existential Interpretation of this Being 221

Chapter OneThe Possible Being-a-Whole of Dasein and Being-toward-Death

46. The Seeming Impossibility of Ontologically Grasping and Determining Dasein as a Whole 227
47. The Possibility of Experiencing the Death of Others and the Possibility of Grasping Dasein as a Whole 229
48. What is Outstanding, End, and Wholeness 232
49. How the Existential Analysis of Death Differs from Other Possible Interpretations of this Phenomenon 237
50. A Preliminary Sketch of the Existential and Ontological Structure of Death 240
51. Being-toward-Death and the Everydayness of Dasein 242
52. Everyday Being-toward-Death and the Complete Existential Concept of Death 245
53. Existential Project of an Authentic Being-toward-Death 249

Chapter TwoThe Attestation of Dasein of an Authentic Potentiality-of-Being and Resoluteness

54. The Problem of the Attestation of an Authentic Existentiell Possibility 257
55. The Existential and Ontological Foundations of Conscience 260
56. The Character of Conscience as a Call 262
57. Conscience as the Call of Care 264
58. Understanding the Summons and Guilt 269

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 59. The Existential Interpretation of Conscience and the Vulgar Interpretation of Conscience | 277 |
| 60. The Existential Structure of the Authentic Potentiality-of-Being Attested to in Conscience | 282 |

Chapter Three

The Authentic Potentiality-for-Being-a-Whole of Dasein, and Temporality as the Ontological Meaning of Care

- | | |
|---|-----|
| 61. Preliminary Sketch of the Methodological Step from Outlining the Authentic Being-as-a-Whole of Dasein to the Phenomenal Exposition of Temporality | 289 |
| 62. The Existentially Authentic Potentiality-for-Being-Whole of Dasein as Anticipatory Resoluteness | 292 |
| 63. The Hermeneutical Situation at Which We Have Arrived for Interpreting the Meaning of Being of Care, and the Methodological Character of the Existential Analytic in General | 297 |
| 64. Care and Selfhood | 302 |
| 65. Temporality as the Ontological Meaning of Care | 309 |
| 66. The Temporality of Dasein and the Tasks of a More Primordial Repetition of the Existential Analysis Arising from it | 316 |

Chapter Four

Temporality and Everydayness

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 67. The Basic Content of the Existential Constitution of Dasein, and the Preliminary Sketch of Its Temporal Interpretation | 319 |
| 68. The Temporality of Disclosedness in General | 320 |
| a. The Temporality of Understanding | 321 |
| b. The Temporality of Attunement | 324 |
| c. The Temporality of Falling Prey | 330 |
| d. The Temporality of Discourse | 333 |
| 69. The Temporality of Being-in-the-World and the Problem of the Transcendence of the World | 334 |
| a. The Temporality of Circumspect Taking Care | 335 |

b. The Temporal Meaning of the Way in which Circumspect Taking Care Becomes Modified into the Theoretical Discovery of That Which is Present Within the World	340
c. The Temporal Problem of the Transcendence of the World	347
70. The Temporality of the Spatiality Characteristic of Dasein	349
71. The Temporal Meaning of the Everydayness of Dasein	352

Chapter Five

Temporality and Historicity

72. The Existential and Ontological Exposition of the Problem of History	355
73. The Vulgar Understanding of History and the Occurrence of Dasein	360
74. The Essential Constitution of Historicity	364
75. The Historicity of Dasein and World History	368
76. The Existential Origin of Historiography from the Historicity of Dasein	373
77. The Connection of the Foregoing Exposition of the Problem of Historicity with the Investigations of Dilthey and the Ideas of Count Yorck	377

Chapter Six

Temporality and Within-Timeness as the Origin of the Vulgar Concept of Time

78. The Incompleteness of the Foregoing Temporal Analysis of Dasein	385
79. The Temporality of Dasein and Taking Care of Time	387
80. Time Taken Care of and Within-Timeness	391
81. Within-Timeness and the Genesis of the Vulgar Concept of Time	400
82. The Contrast of the Existential and Ontological Connection of Temporality, Dasein, and World Time with Hegel's Conception of the Relation between Time and Spirit	406

a. Hegel's Concept of Time	407
b. Hegel's Interpretation of the Connection between Time and Spirit	411
83. The Existential and Temporal Analytic of Dasein and the Fundamental Ontological Question of the Meaning of Being in General	413
Lexicon	417
