

Organizational Behaviour in Sport

James Skinner and
Bob Stewart

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

 UNIVERSITÄT
LIECHTENSTEIN
Bibliothek

Contents

List of illustrations	ix
Introduction: Organizational behaviour in sport	1
PART A
Contextual, structural and operational features of sport enterprises	7
1 Sport's special features	9
2 Design and structure	23
3 Culture and climate	37
PART B
Job-task processes in sport enterprises	49
4 Job analysis and selection	51
5 Orientation and induction	61
6 Reward systems	72
7 Training and development	83
PART C
Employee traits, dispositions and behaviours	93
8 Personality	95
9 Perceptions	106

CONTENTS

10 Motivation	116
11 Attitudes, emotions and job satisfaction	126
PART D
Communication systems and social processes	133
12 Group behaviour	135
13 Team dynamics	144
14 Interpersonal communication	155
15 Leadership	166
PART E
Managing problematic structures, operations and behaviours	179
16 Safety and risk	181
17 Stress and aggression	192
18 Conflict management and resolution	202
PART F
Power, control and change	211
19 Power and politics	213
20 Bargaining and negotiation	221
21 Change and realignment	231
Index	242