

Entrepreneurial Marketing

A Practical Managerial Approach

Robert D. Hisrich

*Associate Dean of Graduate and International Programs,
Bridgestone Chair of International Marketing, Kent State University, USA*

Veland Ramadani

Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship and Management, South-East European University, Republic of Macedonia

Edward Elgar
PUBLISHING

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

About the authors	ix
Preface	xi
1 Entrepreneurial marketing: Entrepreneurship and marketing interface	1
1.1 Chapter objectives	1
1.2 Profile: Steve Jobs and Apple Inc.	1
1.3 Introduction	2
1.4 Marketing definitions	3
1.5 Entrepreneurship definitions	5
1.6 Importance of the entrepreneurship and marketing interface	9
1.7 Entrepreneurial marketing concepts	10
1.8 Elements of the marketing mix	14
1.9 Summary	15
1.10 Case study: Versare, Inc.	17
1.11 Questions for discussion	23
1.12 Key terms	24
2 Foundations of marketing decision-making	26
2.1 Chapter objectives	26
2.2 Profile: Bernie Marcus, Arthur Blank, and The Home Depot	26
2.3 Introduction	28
2.4 Five forces (CREST) in the entrepreneurial marketing environment	28
2.5 Opportunity Assessment Plan	30
2.6 Market research for successful entrepreneurial marketing	32
2.7 Stage-Gate Process	40
2.8 Summary	41
2.9 Case study: Consumer insight	42
2.10 Questions for discussion	42
2.11 Key terms	42

3	Entrepreneurial market identification	44
3.1	Chapter objectives	44
3.2	Profile: John Paul DeJoria – the story of rags to riches	44
3.3	B2C (business-to-consumer) marketing	45
3.4	Stages in the buying process	49
3.5	The diffusion process	52
3.6	Adoption process	53
3.7	The product life cycle	55
3.8	B2G (business-to-government) marketing	55
3.9	B2B (business-to-business) marketing	57
3.10	Key decision-maker	59
3.11	Industrial advertising	60
3.12	Industrial promotion	60
3.13	Case study: Big D Custom Screen Printing marketing dilemma	61
3.14	Questions for discussion	62
3.15	Key terms	63
4	Entrepreneurial market segmentation	64
4.1	Chapter objectives	64
4.2	Profile: Elon Musk and Tesla Motors	64
4.3	Consumer, industrial, and government markets	65
4.4	Market segmentation techniques	68
4.5	Industry and competitive analysis	72
4.6	Summary	76
4.7	Case study: Funrent.com – success or failure?	77
4.8	Questions for discussion	78
4.9	Key terms	78
5	Entrepreneurial product/service policy	79
5.1	Chapter objectives	79
5.2	Profile: Liliane Bettencourt and L'Oréal	79
5.3	Introduction	80
5.4	Product definition	80
5.5	Product planning and development process	85
5.6	Types of new products/services	89
5.7	Product mix	91
5.8	Branding	91
5.9	Packaging	93
5.10	Labeling	94
5.11	Benefits and costs of purchasing products/services	94
5.12	Summary	96

5.13	Case study: Computers for the blind	97
5.14	Questions for discussion	98
5.15	Key terms	98
6	Entrepreneurial pricing policy	101
6.1	Chapter objectives	101
6.2	Profile: Shelly Collins and Galerie Montmartre	101
6.3	Introduction	102
6.4	Fundamental aspects of pricing	102
6.5	Methods and factors affecting pricing	104
6.6	General pricing strategies	108
6.7	Summary	110
6.8	Case study: Jamie Lloyd and West End ticket prices	111
6.9	Questions for discussion	112
6.10	Key terms	112
7	Entrepreneurial distribution policy	114
7.1	Chapter objectives	114
7.2	Profile: David H. McConnell and Avon Products, Inc.	114
7.3	Introduction	115
7.4	Distribution channel essentials	116
7.5	Distribution channel structure	118
7.6	Distribution channel conflicts	121
7.7	Physical distribution	122
7.8	Online selling and e-commerce	124
7.9	Franchising as a distribution option	127
7.10	Summary	130
7.11	Case study: Gentli Shoes	131
7.12	Questions for discussion	131
7.13	Key terms	132
8	Entrepreneurial promotion policy	134
8.1	Chapter objectives	134
8.2	Profile: Dietrich Mateschitz and Red Bull	134
8.3	Introduction	135
8.4	Elements of the promotion mix	135
8.5	Social media and digital technology	143
8.6	Types of entrepreneurial marketing campaigns	144
8.7	Promotion budget	154
8.8	Summary	156
8.9	Case study: Shoney's	156
8.10	Questions for discussion	157
8.11	Key terms	157

9	International entrepreneurial marketing	161
9.1	Chapter objectives	161
9.2	Profile: Gordon Butch Stewart	161
9.3	Introduction	162
9.4	Definition of international entrepreneurial marketing	162
9.5	International entrepreneurial marketing terminology	163
9.6	Aspects of international trade	164
9.7	An international entrepreneurial marketing program	169
9.8	Market entry modes	171
9.9	Communicating throughout the world	171
9.10	Summary	175
9.11	Case study: New business	175
9.12	Questions for discussion	176
9.13	Key terms	176
10	The entrepreneurial marketing plan	177
10.1	Chapter objectives	177
10.2	Profile: Richard Branson and Virgin Atlantic Airways	177
10.3	Introduction	178
10.4	Marketing plan versus business plan	180
10.5	Aspects of the marketing plan	180
10.6	Characteristics of a marketing plan	181
10.7	The marketing mix	183
10.8	Entrepreneurial marketing financial projection: A global perspective	183
10.9	Marketing budget	189
10.10	Summary	190
10.11	Case study: Himalayan Java coffee shop	191
10.12	Questions for discussion	194
10.13	Key terms	194
	Index	195