

ULRIKE BRONNER, CLARISSA REIKERSDORFER

Urban Nomads Building Shanghai
Migrant Workers and the Construction Process

[transcript]

Table of Content

---

Preface | 7

Introduction | 11

1. Interacting with Urban China | 19

1.1 Contemporary Critical Urban Studies | 19

1.2 China's Rapid Urbanization | 23

1.3 Construction – A Process | 26

1.4 Participants – Who is Involved? | 27

2. People in Motion | 31

2.1 Labour Migration | 33

2.2 Labour Migration in China | 35

2.3 The International Business Migrant | 40

2.4 A Peculiarity: the Similarities | 41

3. Urban Nomads – Permanently Temporary | 45

3.1 Emerging Challenges in Migration Studies | 48

3.2 Tailor-Made City Planning and Cocooned Living | 49

4. Shanghai – Head of the Concrete Dragon | 55

4.1 Urban Transformation in Shanghai | 56

4.2 Impacts on the Lived Space | 58

4.3 Construction Sites as Research Field | 60

5. Global Urban Nomads | 63

5.1 Approaching from Within | 63

5.2 The Wide Field of Expatriates | 64

5.3 Bubble Worlds – Spatial Conditions | 70

5.4 Working Challenges | 73

6. Rural Urban Nomads | 81

6.1 Approaching from Outside | 82

6.2 Working Conditions on Site | 83

6.3 Spatial Configurations | 89

6.4 Social Situation | 93

7. Reflecting on Urban Nomads	101
7.1 Reflecting on Global Urban Nomads	102
7.2 Reflecting on Rural Urban Nomads	104
7.3 Interrelations between Urban Nomads	105
7.4 Urban Nomads' Right to Shanghai	108

8. Prospects	111
8.1 Fair Building	111
8.2 From Idea to Action	115

Acknowledgement	119
Glossary	121
Bibliography	123
Table of Figures	135